Dear SDAFP Members,

We continue to navigate interesting times in medicine—marked by constant change and evolving challenges. Yet through it all, family physicians remain at the forefront. In moments of uncertainty, our patients look to us for guidance, support, and stability, and you continue to rise to that responsibility every day.

This year, Dr. Margaret Becker and Dr. Jennifer Schriever represented the South Dakota Academy of Family Physicians at the Family Medicine Advocacy Summit, and Dr. Jason Wickersham and Dr. Jason Knudson represented us at the AAFP Congress of Delegates, with Dr. Margaret Becker and Dr. Jon McAreavey serving as alternate delegates. Their engagement reflects the strength and dedication of our membership. I am continually impressed by the accomplishments of our members and the exceptional care you provide to patients across South Dakota.

I am truly excited for the opportunities the coming year holds for our specialty and our organization, and I look forward to seeing many of you at our annual conference in Deadwood this January.

It has been an honor to serve as president. I am deeply grateful to Dr. Schriever for her leadership before me, and I am confident that Dr. Becker will lead us with vision and energy in the year ahead.

Thank you for all that you do.

Warm regards,
Joshua M. Doorn, MD

Margaret Becker, MD, FAAFP,

Jon McAreavey, MD

These four physicians represented the SDAFP at the 2025 AAFP Congress of Delegates.

Many issues were discussed and voted on including resolutions on artificial intelligence, Medicare coverage for obesity and hearing loss, and protecting loan forgiveness programs. Delegates also addressed issues such as maternity deserts, sexually transmitted infection guidelines, and health disparities for autistic patients.

Additionally new officers were elected, including Sarah Nosal, MD, FAAFP who is now AAFP President.

Dr. Nosal will be attending the SDAFP Winter Seminar on January 29-31, 2026, and would be happy to visit with you and hear your concerns during our social times. If you would like to schedule one on one time with her while she is in SD, please let Carletta know.

AAFP Foundation and South Dakota Foundation of Family Medicine

The SDAFP is proud to support the next generation of physicians by sponsoring 12 medical students to attend the AAFP National Conference of Family Medicine Residents and Medical Students in Kansas City. This annual event, now called "AAFP Future" - is one of the most energizing and influential gatherings for students exploring their career path.

For many attendees, the conference is the moment when their interest in family medicine comes into clear focus. Students have the opportunity to network with residents and faculty from programs across the country, participate in hands-on clinical workshops, explore leadership opportunities within the AAFP, and connect with organizations that champion primary care.

By investing in student attendance, SDAFP is helping ensure that South Dakota continues to grow a strong, committed family medicine workforce. The conference experience encourages students to imagine themselves in a specialty grounded in continuity of care, community impact and life-long relationships with patients.

AK Students Jocelyn Waggoner and Anna Warnock and SD Students Gracelyn Wager and Alison Gisi at FUTURE.

Several past SDAFP-sponsored students have shared that this event solidified their decision to pursue family medicine-citing the welcoming culture, mentorship opportunities, and the chance to meet South Dakota preceptors and residency programs face-to-face.

Supporting student involvement is central to SDAFP's mission. By creating these formative experiences, the Academy continues to cultivate the next generation of compassionate family physicians who will serve the communities across the state for years to come.

The SDAFP celebrated 75 Years in 2025 and would like to thank the following individuals who gave a gift to the SDFFM to help support sending our medical students to FUTURE!

Support the AAFP Foundation and the Family Medicine Chapter Alliance:

The AAFP Foundation has many initiatives to advance family medicine including support of residents and medical students, research, and humanitarian programs. The Family Medicine Chapter Alliance is a way for the AAFP Foundation to collaborate with state chapters of AAFP to support grassroots programs. The program uses a portion of the "dues check off" – funds donated when AAFP members pay their dues. Those funds go into a pool that is available for grants each year. State chapters and chapter foundations are invited to apply for small grants to fund projects in member outreach, public health, and student and resident projects.

SD received two grants this year. We received $1,750 to help support sending SD students to FUTURE as mentioned in the article above and SD received a grant this year to support HOSA. We gave scholarships to the top two winners of the HOSA Family Medicine Event. $500 and $250 went to help fund their trip to complete at the national HOSA conference. Please consider donating to the AAFP Foundation when you pay your dues or at any time here and select Chapter Grants as the designation: <https://www.aafpfoundation.org/donate.html> Thank you for all you do to shape the future of family medicine!

Join Us in Deadwood for the 2026 SDAFP Winter Seminar!

January 29–31, 2026 • The Lodge at Deadwood

The South Dakota Academy of Family Physicians invites you to join colleagues from across the region for our 2026 SDAFP Winter Seminar, held January 29–31 at the beautiful Lodge at Deadwood. This annual gathering has become a cornerstone event for family physicians, residents, and students—bringing together education, camaraderie, and winter fun in one of South Dakota's most unique destinations.

This year's program features 17 outstanding speakers, hands-on workshops, practical clinical updates, and interactive sessions designed with the busy family physician in mind. Whether you're looking to sharpen procedural skills, learn about emerging trends in family medicine, reconnect with colleagues, or simply reset and recharge in the Black Hills, the Winter Seminar has something for everyone.

Highlights include:

- Three full days of high-quality CME tailored to real-world primary care
Pre-conference ALSO Course on Wednesday January 28, 2026
- An ACLS Mock Code Workshop, providing valuable team-based clinical practice
- Engaging keynote sessions from respected experts
- Our robust Exhibit Room Social
- Networking opportunities with colleagues, exhibitors, and SDAFP/AAFP leadership

The Lodge at Deadwood offers the perfect setting for learning and connection—with comfortable guest rooms, beautiful views, outstanding hospitality, and plenty of activities for families. Many attendees bring spouses and children to enjoy the pool, nearby outdoor recreation, and the charm of historic Deadwood.

If you've never attended the SDAFP Winter Seminar, this is the year to join us. And if you've been part of this tradition for years, we can't wait to welcome you back.

Go to <http://sdafp.org/winter-seminar> to register now!! Mark your calendar, invite a colleague, and plan now to join us January 29–31 for an energizing, educational, and truly enjoyable weekend in the Black Hills. We look forward to seeing you in Deadwood!
